Una Directiva Anticipada para Personas con Demencia puede ayudarle a usted, a sus seres queridos y a quienes le atienden y cuidan a comprender sus deseos y preferencias sobre su atención durante el largo curso de la enfermedad y cuando no puede hablar por sí mismo. Incluye información sobre quién le gustaría que le proporcione su cuidado personal, dónde le gustaría vivir si no puede quedarse en casa de forma segura, cómo pagar la atención, qué hacer si se pone agresivo, las relaciones futuras para usted y su cónyuge/pareja y cuándo dejar de conducir. (Formulario e instrucciones)

Form attached:

Advance Directive for Living with Dementia (NJP Planning 512)

¿Qué se incluye en esta Directiva Anticipada?

Puede incluir cualquier cosa que pueda ayudar a los demás a saber cómo darle la atención y el cuidado que necesita y a tomar decisiones por usted cuando no pueda tomarlas por sí mismo. Esto podría ser:

- Quién quiere que cuide de usted en su hogar.
- Dónde quiere vivir si ya no puede vivir en casa.
- Sus preferencias culturales, religiosas y de género sobre su atención y cuidado.
- Qué hacer si se pone agresivo o abusivo debido a la demencia.
- Preferencias para financiar su atención.
- Preferencias sobre futuras relaciones íntimas para usted y/o su cónyuge o pareja.
- Cuándo debe dejar de conducir.

¿Qué no incluye?

Esta Directiva Anticipada no incluye sus preferencias para la atención y cuidado al fin de la vida. Para eso, usted necesita preparar una Directiva de Atención de Salud (Testamento en Vida) para documentar sus deseos y un Poder Notarial que nombre a alguien que tome decisiones por usted cuando usted no pueda tomarlas por sí mismo.

¿Es legal?

Es una directiva anticipada legal bajo la ley estatal de Washington. Los proveedores médicos, de atención prolongada y otros proveedores generalmente están obligados por ley a seguir sus directivas anticipadas. Hay excepciones.

Incluso si usted vive fuera del estado de Washington, esta Directiva Anticipada proporciona una orientación valiosa a sus seres queridos y a quienes cuidan de usted.

¿Necesita estar notarizada?

Lo mejor es firmar su directiva ante un notario.

Si no puede encontrar un notario, puede firmar ante 2 testigos calificados. El formulario dice quién califica.

¿Qué debo hacer después de firmar?

Dé copias a todos los proveedores médicos, seres queridos y personas involucradas en su atención y cuidado o en tomar decisiones por usted. Si tiene algún Poder Notarial, deles copias a sus representantes.

La mejor manera de asegurarse de que se respetarán sus deseos es hablar de esta Directiva Anticipada con su equipo médico, su establecimiento asistencial, sus cuidadores y sus seres queridos. Pídales que respeten sus preferencias y decisiones.

¿Qué más puedo hacer para planificar con anticipación?

Esta Directiva Anticipada es para personas con demencia, pero tenemos otras directivas que puede usar para planificar su atención y cuidado al fin de la vida. (Ver enlaces relacionados abajo.)

El kit de herramientas para la planificación legal de personas con demencia (https://www.dshs.wa.gov/altsa/dac/individualsandfamilies) puede ayudarle a tomar decisiones financieras y de atención médica importantes y darle un lugar para escribirlas.

¿Quién puede ayudarme a planificar cómo pagar la atención por un periodo prolongado?

La atención por un periodo prolongado es cara. Puede pagarla con sus propios ahorros, con un seguro de atención por un periodo prolongado y/o con la asistencia pública de Medicaid. Recomendamos encarecidamente que busque la ayuda de un abogado especializado en leyes de la tercera edad para planificar cómo financiar su atención y cuidado. La Academia de Abogados especializados en Derecho de la Vejez de Washington (https://waela.org/) tiene un directorio.

Advance Directive for Living with Dementia Optional Attachment: Personal History and Care Values

I want my caregivers, family, and friends to know and remember who I am and what is important to me for when I may not be able to remember or fully express this. Important people in my life: My education, work history, skills, accomplishments: Things I love to do or to experience: Important events in my life: How I would like caregivers, family, and friends to treat and care for me if I can no longer say (Examples: Treat me as an adult, not a child; allow me privacy when dressing, bathing, and toileting; help me maintain my personal hygiene and appearance.):
