Ask the judge in your divorce case to order your spouse to pay money for you to hire a lawyer. (Forms and instructions)

1. Fast facts

"Judge" here refers to judges and court commissioners.

If you're involved in a divorce case filed in a Washington state superior court, you can ask for a court order for your spouse to pay money for you to hire a lawyer if all these are true:

- You believe you need to hire a lawyer to get a fair result in your divorce
- You can't afford a lawyer with just your income
- Your spouse can afford to help pay your attorney fees

Under Washington State law

(http://apps.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=26.09.140)

(http://apps.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=26.09.140), a judge can order one spouse to pay the other's attorney fees after considering both parties' financial resources. You can ask for fees for services before filing or during a divorce, modification, or enforcement proceeding.

To ask the judge to do this, you must file a motion. There's no deadline, but you should file as soon as you can.

You'll file a motion for attorney fees in the Superior Court where your divorce is filed. When filing, you use the same case number. This motion is part of your divorce case.

A motion is any request you make to the judge while your case is in progress, before or after a trial. Get family forms to find the right motion forms for your situation.

For most motions, you must put all your requests and evidence in writing, schedule a hearing, file your papers with the court clerk, and serve the other party. You can file written statements (called declarations) from yourself and other people supporting your case. The other party can respond in writing.

This is different from a trial where witnesses must testify in person. The judge holds a trial to make a final decision on all issues in your case.

Do I have to pay to file a motion?

It shouldn't cost anything to file a motion. You may have to pay for copies of whatever orders the judge signs.

How will the judge decide?

After you file and serve your motion and notice of hearing, your spouse will have a chance to respond in writing. Go to the hearing even if your spouse doesn't respond in writing.

At the hearing, the judge should balance your spouse's ability to pay the fees against your need for attorney fees. The judge must consider your financial situation and your spouse's.

What if the judge doesn't approve my motion?

The judge might not order your spouse to pay your attorney fees if you both have similar incomes, or if neither of you can afford a lawyer. Many people represent themselves in family court.

If you file a motion that the judge thinks wastes the court's time, the judge might order you to pay your spouse's court costs. If you're unsure if you should file this motion, try to talk to a lawyer.

2. Step-by-step

1. Fill out the forms (except for the Proof of Mailing and Hand Delivery).

Contact the court clerk's office or family law facilitator (https://www.courts.wa.gov/court_dir/?fa=court_dir.facils) where the case is now. Ask if they have special (local) forms you must use for this motion or to schedule a hearing. If so, use those forms instead of ours. Ask the clerk when you can schedule a hearing on your motion and for help with the other details on the Notice of Hearing form. You can also wait to fill this part out until you go to court to file your papers.

If you haven't already filled out and filed a Financial

Declaration, you should do so now. File and serve the Financial Declaration with your other papers for this motion.

- 2. Make copies. You need one copy of each completed form for yourself, one for the judge, and one for each other party to your case.
  - Organize the copies in sets, so there's one set for each person who needs a copy. You don't have to give the other party a copy of the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery. Put each set of papers into an envelope addressed to each party, with your return address. You'll use these sets for service.
- 3. File the originals with the Superior Court Clerk. Give the clerk the originals of all your forms for filing except you should ask the clerk what to do with the originals of any proposed orders. Follow the clerk's instructions.

Ask the clerk to stamp your copies to show the date you filed the originals. Take the stamped copies back from the clerk. The clerk keeps the original.

Deliver working copies to the judge, if required in your county.

4. Serve the other party (or parties) with copies of everything you filed, and any proposed orders. Most counties require service at least 14 days before a hearing. Ask the clerk if your county's deadline is different.

Follow the rules for service after a case starts. You can serve most motion papers yourself, but it's better to have someone else do it. Ask an adult friend or relative to do it for you. If the other party has a lawyer, have the papers served on the lawyer.

- 5. Have the server fill out the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery. Make 2 copies. File the original with the Superior Court Clerk. If there will be a hearing, bring your copies to the hearing.
- 6. Confirm your hearing, if needed. In some counties, you must contact the clerk's office to confirm that you want your hearing to happen on the day it is scheduled. If you don't confirm by the deadline, your hearing will be canceled. Ask the court clerk for instructions.

7. Review any response. Reply if needed and allowed in your county.

The other party must give you a copy of any response they file. You don't have to reply, but you may want to if they bring up new issues or say things that aren't true.

Ask the court clerk or facilitator

(https://www.courts.wa.gov/court_dir/?fa=court_dir.facils), if your county has one, if replies are allowed in your county and, if so, when they are due. If allowed, you can file a declaration from yourself or others replying to the other party's response. Limit your reply to addressing issues in the other party's response. Serve a copy of your reply on the other party by the deadline. Deliver working copies to the judge if required in your county.

- 8. Go to your hearing. Read chapter 3 for how to get ready for and what to expect at your hearing.
- 9. Tell the judge's clerk you want a copy of the order. Follow the clerk's instructions about getting copies.
- 10. If you disagree with the judge's decision, try to talk to a lawyer right away.

You might want to file a motion for revision or reconsideration. You must file those motions within 10 days of the order you want to change.

3. Hearing

Need an interpreter? You have the right to interpreter services in court at no cost to you. Each court should have a contact person for interpreter requests. As soon as you find out about a court date, contact the court to ask for an interpreter.

Get ready for the hearing

Try to go to court before the day of your hearing or check the court clerk's website to see if you can watch a hearing online. Watch how the court generally does hearings. Try to make some notes to yourself about the main points to make at your hearing.

Organize your paperwork. Plan to bring your set of court papers and your copies of any papers the other parties gave you in response. Bring extra copies of any proposed orders you want the judge to sign.

Get to your hearing early. Try to figure out before the day of the hearing how you will get there and how long it will take. Give yourself time to get through security, and to the right courtroom. If you aren't there on time, the judge could cancel the hearing, or the other party may win.

Bring your paperwork, a pad of paper, and a dark pen to take notes. Dress neatly. Try not to bring your children if you can make other arrangements for them. The judge usually won't let them sit in the courtroom.

When you get to the courtroom, tell the person in charge in the courtroom (the clerk or bailiff) your name and your case name and number. Take a seat. When the judge walks in the room, stand.

If your hearing is online, follow these tips for phone and video hearings.

Your case will be one of several that are scheduled for the same time on the court calendar (called a docket). Listen to the judge and wait for them to call your name. When they call your name, tell the court you are present. Stay in court until they call your case for hearing.

When your case is called

In most cases, the judge will have read your papers before the hearing. The judge will make a decision based on the paperwork filed by both parties in advance.

You usually won't be able to testify, have witnesses testify, or otherwise give evidence at the hearing. You'll just get to tell the judge briefly what you want and why. This means you want to prepare beforehand by making notes about the main points you want to say to the judge.

If the other party gets a lawyer: If another party's lawyer contacts you or shows up at a hearing, you may decide to get one yourself. If so, tell the lawyer and the judge you need to postpone (continue) the hearing. The lawyer may ask you to sign some documents. Don't sign anything you don't understand.

If the other party shows up at the hearing, each of you will get to tell your side of the case. Stand while speaking. Tell the judge briefly what you want and why. Try to keep your argument short. Only outline your main points. You may have as little as 5 minutes to speak. Don't repeat everything in your papers. If you brought proposed orders, ask permission to hand them up to the judge.

If the judge asks you a question, try to answer it directly. Don't interrupt the judge.

If the other party doesn't show up, the judge may ask for your proof of service. Bring a copy of that to show the judge. Ask the judge to sign your proposed orders.

If you couldn't serve the other party in time, or you don't have proof of service, ask the judge to reschedule your hearing.

Hearing the judge's decision

After the judge has heard both sides, the judge decides on the requests. Listen carefully. Make notes. Usually, the judge gives their decision out loud, then it must be put in writing in a court order.

It's best to bring proposed orders so the judge can sign them at your hearing. If no one brought proposed orders, the judge may tell you, the other party, or the other party's lawyer to write the orders and come back later for the judge to sign. The judge could schedule another hearing in a week or two just for signing orders.

If the other party prepared the orders, read them carefully. Make sure they say what the judge said. If you're not sure, don't sign the orders. Ask to go back before the judge to make sure the order says what the judge said.

If the other party didn't show up for the hearing, send them copies of the court orders. Follow the rules to serve papers after a case starts.

4. Forms

Order on Motion for Attorney Fees (Divorce) (NJP Family 927)

Form attached:

Notice of Hearing (family law) (FL All Family 185)

Form attached:

Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery (family law) (FL All Family 112)

Follow the general rules to format and fill out court documents.

Form section 4. Declaration: Check the box for "Other reasons or information about the other party's or my financial situation" if there are any other details here you think the judge should know. List those details here. Examples:

- "I'm the primary parent for our two young children. My spouse doesn't give me any support for them."
- "I've gotten some advice from Northwest Justice Project (or a volunteer lawyer program), but they have too many cases and can't represent me."
- "We've been married for 10 years. My spouse has worked for the past 15 years in sales. I've been a full-time stay-at-home parent."

If you haven't already filled out and filed a Financial Declaration, you should do so now. File and serve the Financial Declaration with your other papers for this motion.

Tips for filling out the Order on Motion for Attorney Fees (Divorce) (NJP Family 927)

Fill out the order form the way you want the judge to sign it. This is a proposed order you'll ask the judge to sign at the hearing. If you're not sure about something in the order, leave it blank for the judge to complete.

Tips for filling out the Notice of Hearing (FL All Family 185)

Fill out the Notice of Hearing with details from the court clerk or family law facilitator (https://www.courts.wa.gov/court_dir/?fa=court_dir.facils). You can try to get that information over the phone, or in-person when you file your papers. When choosing a hearing date, leave yourself enough time to have the other party served.

Many counties require you to use their own form. Ask the facilitator or clerk in the county where your case was filed if they use a special Notice of Hearing form. If not, use ours.

Tips for filling out the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery (FL All Family 112)

Fill out this form after serving the other party. Whoever served the other party must sign it. Follow the rules for service after a case starts.

Check to be sure your server filled out the date of service, who the papers were delivered to, and how they were delivered. Also be sure the form lists all documents that were served. If your server leaves out a form, you won't have proof it was served.
