Various issues can cause problems getting title to your manufactured or mobile home. This guide explains how to try to get title in your name and has the court forms you need for an order to Quiet Title. We have a separate guide to quiet title for a vehicle.

1. Common ways to get title

How do I normally get proof of mobile home ownership?

We use the term “manufactured home” interchangeably with “mobile home.”

Even though some mobile homes are hard or impossible to move once they are installed, they still have to be titled like a vehicle because they are considered to be “moveable” property. Movable property (<https://dor.wa.gov/sites/default/files/2022-02/MobileHomesFAQ.pdf>) is property like vehicles and mobile homes. Real property is property like land and buildings that are permanently attached to the land.

A mobile home’s buyer and seller must both give paperwork that reports the sale to the Washington Department of Licensing (<http://www.dol.wa.gov/>) (DOL) within 5 days of the mobile home’s sale. The seller signs over the title to you. The DOL then issues you a new title.

What if the seller lost the title?

A seller who has lost or misplaced the title can apply for a new copy (<https://dol.wa.gov/vehicles-and-boats/vehicles/renew-or-replace-vehicle-tabs/affidavit-lossrelease-interest>) and sign it over to you. The seller should use the DOL’s Affidavit of Loss/Release of Interest form (<https://dol.wa.gov/forms/view/420040/download?inline>).

What if the title is in some other registered or legal owner’s name?

You can ask the last registered or legal owner to sign and file an Affidavit of Loss/Release of Interest form (<https://dol.wa.gov/forms/view/420040/download?inline>).

Example: You finished making your payments on the home. You can ask the legal owner to sign and file a release of interest.

What if the title to the mobile home was lost?

You can ask the last registered or legal owner to sign and file an Affidavit of Loss/Release of Interest form (<https://dol.wa.gov/forms/view/420040/download?inline>).

You might need to submit a Vehicle Record Request form (<https://www.dol.wa.gov/forms/224003.pdf>) if you don't know who all the registered owners are.

Do campers need their own registration and title?

Yes. Cab-over campers and other campers are living spaces that sit on your truck. Even if your camper is permanently attached to your truck, they each need their own title and registration. Even if the camper and truck were previously registered as one motorhome, now they have to be titled and registered individually. You will need to register and retitle them at the same time.

What if my mobile home is homemade or DIY built?

DIY built mobile homes like tiny homes might not have a VIN number assigned to them automatically. This includes conversion kits. You will need a VIN number to get a title for the mobile home. You might have to get a VIN number assigned to your mobile home if the trailer you used for the build doesn't have one. There are a lot of requirements to pass the inspection that is required if you need a VIN number assigned or are otherwise required to have an inspection. The vehicle must be roadworthy according to state laws.

There are other strict requirements for documentation of the build that you will need to provide.

If you bought a finished homemade mobile home, you need a notarized bill of sale from the person you got it from. You will also need all of the original documentation for the major parts that were used to build the mobile home. Make sure the person who sold or gave you the homemade mobile home has all the original parts documentation.

Will I have to get a Washington State Patrol vehicle inspection?

If your mobile home doesn't have a VIN number because it is homemade or for some other reason, you must have an inspection. If you have to have a VIN number assigned to your mobile home, you must have an inspection from WSP. If you do need to have a WSP inspection, these are required as original documents (not copies):

- If you bought the mobile home or trailer from a private party, the bill of sale must be notarized.
- Receipts and invoices for major parts made out to you or a family member as the buyer or the licensed shop that built the trailer. If you bought the major parts from a third party, then you need a notarized bill of sale and the original parts receipt. If you provide internet receipts, they have to be for new major aftermarket parts and must also include the original shipping invoice to you.

- Original receipts for any parts bought from a licensed business.
- Any parts bought from a vehicle wrecker or tow yard must have original receipts that include the VIN number for the vehicle that the parts came from.
- Any parts you got from a private party by purchase, trade or gift, must include the signed and released title for the vehicle the parts came off of or a notarized bill of sale. The notarized bill of sale, gift or trade must include the information about the vehicle the parts came off of.
- A weight slip from a certified scale for the completed trailer weight.
- A Washington State Patrol Inspection Request form
- If you plan to register it as an RV camp vehicle or Recreational Vehicle, you will need a completed Labor & Industries RV Inspection and to have the L&I Inspection insignia on your trailer.

Your mobile home might require a WSP inspection for other reasons even if it already had a VIN number. You might need an inspection for roadworthiness or for other reasons if required by WSP or DOL. If the vehicle was salvaged or the vehicle was rebuilt, an inspection might be required. You will be required to have an inspection if your ownership documents don't list the year, make and model of the home. If you can't pass the inspection or don't have the required documents, you can try to get title by using the 3-year "ownership in doubt" registration process.

2. Other ways to get title

What are other ways I can get title?

If you can't get title from a seller or other person you got the vehicle or mobile home from, you can apply for "ownership in doubt". Apply in any of these ways:

- Ask DOL to issue a 3-year registration without title. This converts to full ownership (giving you the title) if after 3 years nobody challenges (contests) your ownership.
- You can file a bond with DOL for a 3-year period and get a bonded title. The bond amount must be equal to 150% of the vehicle or mobile home's value.
- You can file a case in court for an order giving you legal ownership of the vehicle or mobile home (an order to quiet title).

New! Starting July 27, 2025 you can ask to have a new title created if none can be found for a mobile home, manufactured home or park model that you bought in a county treasurer's foreclosure or distraint sale for nonpayment of taxes.

When should I ask DOL for a registration without title or a bonded title?

You can apply for registration without title or a bonded title if both of these are true:

- The seller never gave you title or never had the title.

- No other known person claims to own the vehicle or mobile home.

It is easiest and cheapest if you get a 3-year registration without title. Then wait for 3 years to get a full title. Use the DOL's Bonded Title or Three-Year Registration Without Title Affidavit form (<https://dol.wa.gov/forms/view/420008/download?inline>).

3. Use court to quiet title

Should I file a court action?

Sometimes going to court is the only option. You might have to go to court if any of these are true:

- The person who sold you the vehicle or mobile home failed to file the bill of sale and transfer title and still claims ownership or won't release their interest.
- The used vehicle or mobile home dealer that sold you the vehicle, whose name is on the title, went out of business.
- The lender of your vehicle or mobile home loan went out of business.
- You can't wait the time required to use the 3-year registration process.
- You don't know who the legal owner is.
- Someone else also says that they own the vehicle or mobile home.

Who can't file a court case to quiet title?

Don't file a court case if either of these is true:

- The seller lost or misplaced the title. Ask the seller to apply for a new copy (<https://dol.wa.gov/vehicles-and-boats/vehicles/renew-or-replace-vehicle-tabs/affidavit-lossrelease-interest>) and sign it over to you. The seller should use the DOL's Affidavit of Loss/Release of Interest form (<https://dol.wa.gov/forms/view/420040/download?inline>).
- The title is in the name of someone other than the seller. Try to contact the person who has title and ask them to transfer ownership. If that person won't transfer title, you may need to file a court case.

What kind of court case must I file?

You must file a court case to "Quiet Title" to your vehicle or mobile home. It is also called applying for "ownership in doubt."

What county and court do I file in?

You can file in either District or Superior court. Most people file in District Court because it costs less. You can file in the county you live in. If you can't afford the filing fee, you can ask the court for a fee waiver.

What court forms do I need?

Use the forms in Chapter 9.

What if the court doesn't recognize this kind of case?

You can file this kind of case under RCW 46.12.680 (<https://app.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=46.12.680>). The Washington

Courts memo about petitions for vehicle ownership

(https://customerservices.courts.wa.gov/support/solutions/articles/72000578202-

petitions-for-vehicle-ownership) describes more about this unique kind of court case. You might need to print the memo

(<https://customerservices.courts.wa.gov/helpdesk/attachments/72021301763>)

and file it as an exhibit with your court case. Or take a copy with you to your hearing to show the judge if they ask. It can help the judge better understand your case if they know about the memo.

4. Before you file

Gather information to identify the mobile home

- Year, make and model
- VIN (Vehicle Identification Number)

To find the VIN for a mobile home, check your paperwork or the printed metal tags affixed to your mobile home. You can usually find the VIN inside the home, on a sticker called the data plate. Look for the data plate on the wall inside the master bedroom closet. If it is not there, check inside your kitchen cabinets. It might be on a cabinet door. You can also check around the back door of the home or inside your HVAC closet.

Find out who has title to the mobile home. That person will be the “Defendant” in your court forms. Contact that person if you can find them. Tell them why you think you are the correct owner. Try to get them to transfer title to you if possible.

In your court forms, you must say how you tried to contact the Defendant before going to court. Keep notes about when and how you tried to contact them and what happened if you reached them.

Prepárese para el proceso

El proceso judicial toma tiempo y tiene muchos pasos. Siga las instrucciones paso a paso en el siguiente capítulo. Este es un resumen:

- Complete sus formularios incluyendo información sobre la persona a cuyo nombre está el título (la Parte demandada) y cómo intentó contactarlo. Reúna esta información con antelación.
- Presente los formularios de Citatorio y Demanda en el juzgado, pague la tarifa de presentación de casos o solicite una exención de las tarifa.
- Haga entrega del Citatorio y Demanda a la Parte demandada a través de los procedimientos correctos de notificación procesal.
- Confirme que la Parte demandada no es militar en servicio activo.
- Dé a la Parte demandada 20 días para responder.
- Si la Parte demandada no responde, entonces prepare la Petición de Incomparecencia y su Orden propuesta sobre la Petición de Incomparecencia.

- Presente la Petición de Incomparecencia en el juzgado. Pregunte al funcionario de la secretaría del juzgado cómo hacer que su petición sea considerada por un juez. Puede que haya formularios locales para programar una audiencia o puede que tenga que asistir a una audiencia de casos ex parte en el juzgado. Esas son audiencias especiales en las que el juez puede firmar órdenes si la otra parte no comparece.
- Pida al juez que firme la Orden sobre la Petición de Incomparecencia y la Orden de Validación del Título de Propiedad. Luego obtenga copias certificadas de la Orden de Validación del Título de Propiedad.

Puede dar la copia certificada de la orden al DOL y pedir que expidan un título nuevo a su nombre.

Si la Parte demandada sí responde a su Citatorio y Demanda dentro de los primeros 20 días, usted debería obtener ayuda legal antes de continuar con el caso.

5. Step-by-step

These instructions assume that Defendant won't respond to your quiet title lawsuit. If you expect Defendant to respond and challenge your ownership of the vehicle, try to talk to a lawyer.

1. Gather the information you'll need to identify the Defendant and the mobile home.

2. Fill out the summons and complaint court forms. Make 2 copies after you have finished and signed them.

If you have evidence that supports your claim, attach a copy of it to your Complaint. This can include:

- Proof of sale like agreement copies or receipts
- Copies of communications between you and the Defendant

You can also print the Washington Courts memo about petitions for vehicle ownership

(<https://customerservices.courts.wa.gov/support/solutions/articles/72000578202-petitions-for-vehicle-ownership>) and attach it to your Complaint. This isn't required but might be helpful.

3. File your summons and complaint forms in court.

Bring your originals and copies to the clerk of the court where you are filing this case. Give the clerk your set of originals to file. Include the copy of your filing fee waiver if you are asking for one. Otherwise, pay your filing fee.

Ask the clerk to stamp your copies to show the date you filed the originals. Take the stamped copies back from the clerk. The clerk keeps the originals. The clerk should have assigned a case number on the copy you got.

4. Give the Defendant notice.

Have someone other than you, age 18 or older, hand deliver a copy of the Summons and Complaint to Defendant or Defendant's registered agent.

Have the person who delivers the paperwork fill out and sign the Proof of Personal Service form. Check to be sure they filled out the date of service, who the papers were delivered to, and how they were delivered. Also be sure the form lists all documents that were served. If your server leaves out a form, you won't have proof it was served.

Make 2 copies of the signed Proof of Personal Service.

5. Wait 20 days.

The Defendant has 20 days (https://www.courts.wa.gov/court_rules/pdf/CR/SUP_CR_12_00_00.pdf) to file an Answer to your complaint. The 20-day count begins when your server gave them the summons. You must wait those 20 days before you can do anything else. You can do steps 6-7 while you wait 20 days.

If the Defendant files an Answer, a Notice of Appearance, or responds to you in any way within the 20 days, stop here. Talk to a lawyer.

If Defendant is served outside of Washington State, they have 60 days to answer the lawsuit. Try to have Defendant served in Washington if you can.

6. Check and confirm that the Defendant isn't active duty military.

(Skip this step if Defendant is a business or corporation.)

If Defendant is a person, you can look them up on the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) website (<https://scra.dmdc.osd.mil/scra/#/home>) and get a report from the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC). You must create an account on that website to run a search. They call it a "record request". It's free. You'll need Defendant's date of birth or social security number. Attach the report to the Motion for Default.

If you don't have that information, try to find out if Defendant is active duty military some other way. You can ask them or ask people who know them well. In your Motion for Default, you must explain what you did to find out Defendant's military status.

If the Defendant is active duty military, stop here. Talk to a lawyer.

7. Prepare the final court forms.

If Defendant doesn't respond after 20 days, complete these court forms to finalize your case:

- Motion for Default
- Order on Motion for Default
- Order Quieting Title to Vehicle or Manufactured Home

8. Go back to the court clerk.

File the original Proof of Personal Service. Ask the clerk to stamp your copies with the file date.

Tell the clerk you're filing a motion for default and want a judge to sign your final Order Quieting Title. Ask if you must schedule a hearing or if a judge can sign your orders "ex parte". Follow the clerk's instructions. The practice varies by county. Some courts don't have an ex parte docket.

"Ex parte" means both parties don't have to be present. The judge can sign an order ex parte if both parties have already signed it, or if one party doesn't have to be notified.

- If you can use Ex Parte, you may have a hearing the same day you file the forms, or the next day if you file later in the day.
- If you must schedule a hearing, ask the clerk about when and where the hearing will be, or if you need another form for that.

9. Get ready for and go to your hearing.

At the hearing you'll ask a judge to sign your proposed Order on Motion for Default and Order Quieting Title. Read the next 2 chapters for how to prepare and what to expect at your hearing.

10. Get certified copies of the signed orders from the clerk.

If the judge signs your orders, you will need to get certified copies of both of the orders. You might be able to do it the same day as the hearing. Ask the judge's clerk as soon as your hearing is over how and when you can get certified copies of the orders. You will need at least 2 certified copies of the signed orders. The clerk will charge you for the copies.

11. Follow up with DOL.

After the hearing, give the certified copy of the order that quiets title to the DOL (<http://www.dol.wa.gov/>). Ask for a new title issued in your name. DOL will charge a fee for this.

6. What to say in court

Before the hearing, make a short outline of what to say to the court. It should look like this:

Introduction:

- My name is _____. Thank you for letting me be heard. I am asking for a default judgment to be entered and for an order to quiet title to this mobile home: [Describe the mobile home].
- I had the Defendant served and they didn't respond. I filed Proof of Personal Service with the court clerk. I have a copy if you'd like to see it.

Tell the judge you've met all the statutory requirements from RCW 46.12.680:

- I bought this mobile home from the Defendant on [date].
- I can't get title transferred into my name because [explain].

- I've tried to contact the Defendant regarding this issue and the Defendant didn't respond.

The judge may ask you questions. If so, answer them to the best of your ability.

Practice what you'll say from your outline before you go to court. It's okay to read from your notes when you speak to the judge.

Learn tips for going to court.

7. At the hearing

Bring your copies of the documents that the clerk's office stamped. Also bring the extra copies of your proof of service and proposed orders.

It can help to take a copy of RCW 46.12.680 (<https://app.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=46.12.680>) and copy of the Washington Courts memo about petitions for vehicle ownership (<https://customerservices.courts.wa.gov/support/solutions/articles/72000578202-petitions-for-vehicle-ownership>) to show the judge. You might have to explain there is no procedure specified in statute or regulations for this kind of order. This is your only way to get title.

If you have children, try to find someone to watch them while you go to court. The judge probably won't let them sit in the courtroom.

Don't bring a weapon, or something that could be mistaken for a weapon (like a pocketknife), to the courthouse.

Try to be in the courtroom at least 15 minutes before you were told to be there. Give yourself time to find parking, or the right transit stop, or to wait in line to get into the courthouse.

If your hearing is online, follow these tips for phone and video hearings.

When you get to the courtroom:

- Check in with the courtroom clerk. Usually, they are sitting at a desk close to the judge. Tell the courtroom clerk your name because they need to know that you are there.
- When the judge calls your case, walk up to the table or podium for lawyers in front of the judge. Wait for them to tell you that it is your turn to speak. Follow your outline.
- During the hearing, speak only to the judge. Speak only when it is your turn. Don't interrupt the judge or speak to the prosecutor, even if they interrupt or speak to you.
- Be polite, reasonable, and calm. If you're confused or don't understand something, politely tell the judge so and ask for clarification. If the judge asks you any questions. Answer the best you can. If you don't know the answer to the judge's question, don't guess. Tell the judge you don't know the answer. If you need time to think, just tell the court you need a moment. Take your time.

- If the judge agrees with you and signs your orders, ask the judge or courtroom clerk when the orders will be available at the clerk's office.
- When the orders are ready, get at least 2 certified copies of each order. You might be able to get them before you leave the court on the day of the hearing. Some courts will make you pick them up from the clerk at some point after the day of the hearing.

8. After the hearing

After the hearing, give the certified copy of the order that quiets title to the DOL (<http://www.dol.wa.gov/>). Ask for a new title issued in your name. DOL will charge a fee for this.
