If you live in Washington State, are age 16 or 17, and want to be legally considered an adult, you can use this guide to ask a judge to declare you emancipated.

1. Fast facts

Do I qualify for emancipation?

Only if you prove all of these by clear and convincing evidence:

- You live in Washington.
- You can take care of your own finances.
- You can handle your own educational, personal, social, and/or any other business.

In most civil cases, you only have to prove things by a “preponderance of the evidence” — meaning you can show that something is more likely true than false. “Clear and convincing evidence” is harder. For that, you must prove something is very likely true.

What if my parents don’t want me to emancipate?

If your parent, guardian, or custodian opposes your petition, you must prove that it would be bad for you if the court didn’t emancipate you.

What about school?

You can still go to school if you’re emancipated. In fact, you must prove to the judge that you can handle your education.

If you’re age 16 – 19, live in Washington State, and you’ve been kicked out of (expelled from) school, or you don’t feel safe in school, you can still get a high school degree.

Visit GED.com (<https://www.ged.com/>) to learn more about the GED high school equivalency exam, available study materials and classes, or to sign up to take the test. There may be some cost to preparing for and taking the test, but financial help may be available. Contact your local DSHS, library, or community college to find out about any help near you.

How will emancipation change things?

These things will change:

- Your parents no longer support you. You must come up with money and pay for personal needs like clothes, food, or rent.
- Someone can sue you in your own name.
- You have the right to your own earnings.
- You can live in your own home.
- You can sign contracts, including loans, leases, or real estate contracts.
The law will treat you as an adult for contracts you sign.
- You can give informed consent for all health care services.

What won't change?

The law will not consider you an adult for these:

- Criminal Laws - if you're the accused, the law treats you as an adult only in the same situations where it could have done so even before you were emancipated. If you're the victim, emancipation doesn't matter.
- Voting - you can't vote until you are 18.
- Alcohol - you can't drink or buy alcohol until you're 21.
- Other - you're still subject to other legal health or safety regulations that depend on age.

2. Before you file

Before you start the emancipation process, gather as many of these things as you can. You'll need them to fill out the court forms and prove your case.

- ()A certified copy of your birth certificate. If you were born in Washington, you can order a certified copy of your birth certificate from the Department of Health, Vital Records (<https://doh.wa.gov/licenses-permits-and-certificates/vital-records/ordering-vital-record>). There will be a fee and processing times vary depending on how you order. If you were born in another state, search online for that's state's vital statistics department and how to get a certified copy of your birth certificate.
- Last known addresses for your parents or any legal guardians. You must try to notify your parents or guardians about your emancipation petition even if they haven't been in your life for a long time. If you don't know where they are, ask around. Make notes of everything you did to try to find them. You'll have to show the judge you made a good effort.

If you're involved in a dependency with CPS, you also need the address for the Attorney General's office that's handling your case. Their address should be on the dependency paperwork, or you can look it up online (<https://www.atg.wa.gov/ago-office-locations>).

- ()Proof that you can manage your financial affairs. Gather documents such as letters from employers, landlords, or other creditors stating how long you've been working, your work schedule, how much you make; how long you've been living away from your parents; how long you've been paying other bills on your own, and so on. Also print out bank documents showing you have your own bank accounts, and that you've kept them in good order.
- ()Proof that you can manage your personal, social, educational, and non-financial affairs. Gather helpful documents such as school records showing good attendance and grades, current or future educational plans, housing situation or plans, health records showing you've gone to the doctor or dentist as needed. You can also get written statements from relatives, friends, pastors or other clergy stating how long you've been on your own and how you've been doing.

If you expect a parent or guardian to object to your emancipation, also gather proof that you'll be harmed if you're not emancipated.

3. Step-by-step

Follow these steps to get a court order (decree) of emancipation.

1. Fill out the forms (except for the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery).

The court will charge a $50 filing fee. If you can't afford it, also fill out the forms to ask the judge to cancel (waive) the filing fee.

2. Make several copies. You need one copy of each completed form for yourself, one for the judge, and one for each of your parents or legal guardians. If you're involved in a dependency case with CPS, you also need a copy for the Attorney General (the state's lawyer).

You may be able to make your copies at the clerk's office after you file. The clerk might charge a small fee for copies.

Organize the copies in sets, so there's one set for each person who needs a copy. You don't have to give the other parties a copy of the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery or any fee waiver forms. Put each set of papers into an envelope addressed to each party, with your return address. You'll use these sets for service.

3. Go to the Superior Court Clerk's office. Tell the clerk you're filing a Petition for Emancipation. Ask the clerk when you can schedule a hearing on your Petition and for help with the other details on the Notice of Hearing form. Choose a hearing date anywhere from 20 to 60 days from the day you file.

Be sure to put the hearing details on all copies of the Notice of Hearing form, or make copies of the completed form at the courthouse.

4. File the originals with the Superior Court clerk.
 - If you need a fee waiver, follow the clerk's instructions to have a judge review that request. Otherwise, pay the filing fee.
 - Give the clerk the originals of all your forms for filing except you should ask the clerk what to do with the original of your proposed Decree of Emancipation. Follow the clerk's instructions.
 - The clerk will give you a case number. Ask the clerk to stamp your copies to show your case number and the date you filed the originals. Take the stamped copies back from the clerk. The clerk keeps the originals.

- Ask the clerk if the judges require working copies before a hearing, and if they must be labeled in a certain way. (You may need to write the date and time of the hearing in the upper right corner.) If required, label and deliver working copies to the judge.

5. Have copies served on each of your parents or legal guardians at least 15 days before the hearing. If you're involved in a dependency case with CPS, you must also serve the Attorney General's office for your area.

If you can't find a parent or guardian to serve them, you can ask the judge to skip (waive) this requirement at your hearing. You'll need to prove that you made a good effort to find them first.

Whoever serves the papers must be age 18 or older, and willing to sign a statement for the court. You can ask an adult friend or relative to do it, or you can pay a process server or the county sheriff.

You can have the papers served by hand delivery or by regular and certified mail.

If you mail, you must mail your papers more than 3 days before your deadline. You must mail one copy by first class mail, and another copy by certified mail, return receipt requested. Attach a copy of the tracking information or signed return receipt card to your proof of service.

- When counting, don't count the day of mailing, weekends, or court holidays (example: if you mail something on a Monday, it counts as served on Thursday)
 - If the third day is on a weekend or holiday, it isn't "served" until the next court day
6. Have the server fill out a Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery for each person served. Make 2 copies. File the original with the Superior Court Clerk. Bring your copies to the hearing.
 7. Go to the hearing. Ask the judge to sign your proposed Decree of Emancipation. Read chapter 4 for how to get ready and what to expect at your hearing.
 8. Tell the judge's clerk you want a certified copy of the Decree after the judge signs it. Follow the clerk's instructions to get a certified copy. You'll have to pay at least $6 for it. You may want more than one.
 9. Take your certified copy of the Decree to the Department of Licensing. You can get a new driver's license or Washington I.D. card saying you're emancipated.
 10. Keep a copy of the signed Decree for your own personal file of everything you gave the court.

4. Hearing

Before the day of your hearing, ask the court clerk if adults who support your emancipation can go to the hearing with you. If you can, let these adults know that the judge might ask them some questions.

Get ready for the hearing

Try to go to court before the day of your hearing or check the court clerk's website to see if you can watch a hearing online. Watch how the court generally does hearings. Try to make some notes to yourself about the main points to make at your hearing.

Organize your paperwork. Plan to bring your set of court papers and your copies of any papers the other parties gave you in response. Bring extra copies of any proposed orders you want the judge to sign.

Get to your hearing early. Try to figure out before the day of the hearing how you will get there and how long it will take. Give yourself time to get through security, and to the right courtroom. If you aren't there on time, the judge could cancel the hearing, or the other party may win.

Bring your paperwork, a pad of paper, and a dark pen to take notes. Dress neatly. Try not to bring your children if you can make other arrangements for them. The judge usually won't let them sit in the courtroom.

When you get to the courtroom, tell the person in charge in the courtroom (the clerk or bailiff) your name and your case name and number. Take a seat. When the judge walks in the room, stand.

If your hearing is online, follow these tips for phone and video hearings.

Your case will be one of several that are scheduled for the same time on the court calendar (called a docket). Listen to the judge and wait for them to call your name. When they call your name, tell the court you are present. Stay in court until they call your case for hearing.

When your case is called

In most cases, the judge will have read your papers before the hearing.

Tell the judge briefly how you'll be able to handle your own affairs if you're emancipated. Ask permission to hand your proposed Decree of Emancipation to the judge. Prepare beforehand by making notes about the main points you want to say to the judge.

If a parent, guardian, or CPS shows up at the hearing, each of you will get to tell your side of the case. Stand while speaking. Explain how you'll be harmed if you're not emancipated. Try to keep your argument short. Only outline your main points. Don't repeat everything in your Petition.

If the judge asks you a question, try to answer it directly. Don't interrupt the judge.

If your parents don't show up, the judge may ask for your proof of service. Bring a copy of that to show the judge. If you couldn't serve them in time, or you don't have proof of service, ask the judge to cancel (waive) the service requirement or reschedule your hearing. You'll need to prove that you made a good effort to find them.

Tips for filling out the Petition for Emancipation (EM 01.0100)

Fill out the Petition form to explain what you want the judge to do and why they should do it

Caption - The caption is the top part of the first page of each form, starting with, "SUPERIOR COURT OF WASHINGTON," and ending with the line about a third of the way down the page.

After "COUNTY OF," put the county where you're filing.

Between "In re:" and "Petitioner," put your complete name. Put your date of birth after "D.O.B."

When you file your petition, the clerk assigns a number to your case. You must put the number on every copy of all your documents after the word, "NO." in the caption.

Paragraph 1.1 - Put the info requested.

Paragraph 1.2 – Don't put anything here. Do put a sticky note or other marker on your papers so you remember to attach a certified copy of your birth certificate to the Petition.

Paragraph 1.3 – Put the info requested. You must list all parents, unless a court has already terminated their rights to you, even if a parent hasn't been in your life for a long time. You must try to get the addresses of everyone listed in 1.3. If a listed person has died, put "Deceased" next to their name in this section.

Paragraph 1.4 - Put any facts that will prove you can take care of your own money. You must show your income and where you get it, and all your bills, including groceries, transportation, housing, utilities, and any other monthly expenses. Your bills shouldn't be higher than your income. Put "See attached" if you're attaching any helpful documents you gathered about this.

Paragraph 1.5 - Describe how you're handling your housing, school, medical care, and other basic needs. Put "See attached" if you're attaching any helpful documents you gathered about this.

Paragraph 1.6 - If you think your parents, guardian, or custodian will fight the emancipation, explain here how it will harm you if the court denies emancipation. Example 1: You won't be able to rent housing or keep a job that's your only source of money. Example 2: Living with your parents or guardian will cause you psychological and/or physical damage.

Signature – Sign and print your name on the "Signature of Petitioner" line, and on the bottom signature line, putting the city, state, and date where it says.

Tips for filling out the Decree of Emancipation (EM 01.0400)

Caption – Fill out the caption.

Findings - Check the first box. Check the second box only if someone will oppose your petition.

Signature - Leave the date and signature lines blank for the judge.

Bring the completed decree form and proof of service on each parent/guardian/custodian/State of Washington to the hearing. If the judge signs the decree, get a certified copy from the clerk.

Tips for filling out the Notice of Hearing (NJP General 008)

Fill out the Notice of Hearing with details from the court clerk. You can try to get that information over the phone, or in-person when you file your papers. When choosing a date, leave yourself enough time to have the other party served.

Many counties require you to use their own form. Ask the clerk if they use a special Notice of Hearing form. If not, use ours.

Our form has space for a Petitioner/Plaintiff and a Respondent/Defendant at the top. Put your name as the Petitioner/Plaintiff. Leave the Respondent/Defendant line blank.

Tips for filling out the Proof of Mailing or Hand Delivery (NJP General 002)

Have your server fill out and sign one of these for each person served.

If service was by mail, make sure one copy was sent by first class mail and another by certified mail, return receipt requested. Attach a copy of the tracking information or signed return receipt card to the proof of service.

Check to be sure your server filled out the date of service, who the papers were delivered to, and how they were delivered. Also be sure the form lists all documents that were served. If your server leaves out a form, you won't have proof it was served.
