

Cultural and legal issues for Native families dealing with divorce and parenting plans

Author

Northwest Justice Project

Last Review Date

June 3, 2025

This video shares information about important issues that Native families might experience related to Tribal and State court differences, the Indian Child Welfare Act, divorce, custody, and other legal situations. Lawyers from Northwest Justice Project's Native American Unit (NAU) talk about special things that Native American parents, custodians or guardians might want to know. The NAU aims to address the unique legal needs of Native American communities statewide.

WashingtonLawHelp.org gives general information. It is not legal advice. Find organizations that provide free legal help on our Get legal help page.